The Joint Conference on Digital Libraries (JCDL) Sponsorship
Jun 3rd -7th , 2018

The Joint Conference on Digital Libraries (JCDL) is a major international forum focusing on digital libraries and associated technical, practical, and social issues. JCDL enhances the tradition of conference excellence already established by the ACM and IEEE-CS by combining the annual events that these professional societies have sponsored on an annual basis.

The 2018 conference (https://2018.jcdl.org/) will be held in Dallas-Fort Worth metropolitan area between Jun 3rd -7th, 2017, and we expect 200+ researchers and practitioners to attend. With the theme being 'From data to Wisdom Resilient Integration across Societies, Disciplines, and Systems', we are offering tracks that cover a multitude of diverse topics from predictive analytics to libraries and data curation, and we encourage a wide variety of submissions.

Our top 3 sponsorships of diamond, gold, and silver give you the opportunities to help researchers developers in the broad field of digital libraries and for them to know your organizations. Generally, sponsors earn additional benefits through marketing or networking deliverables.

Diamond Level $10,000 or More (Only two)
Diamond sponsors earn tremendous, sales-building exposure starting with the chance to speak at the conference in your own 30-minute Solution Session. You'll gain top-billing with your logo on the front cover and your half-page advertising on the inside front cover of the conference program and your logo in online proceedings. In addition to institution/corporate logo on conference website and marketing material on the registration desk.

Gold Level $5,000 (Only three)
Gold sponsors show your market leadership with a 15-minute sponsored Solution Session. Added brand exposure in the conference program and online proceedings. In addition to corporate logo on conference website and marketing material on the registration desk.

Silver Level $3,000 (Open)
As a silver sponsor, you will gain brand exposure in the conference program and online proceedings. In addition to corporate logo on conference website and marketing material on the registration desk.

Please email Mr. Habib Abdulrahman (AbdulrahmanHabib@unt.edu) to discuss this sponsorship invitation and the level of sponsorship that would be most beneficial to you and your company.
